MERCHANTS' EXHIBIT

A Fine Display—Exhibits in Detail

The attendance at the Merchants' Exhibit was not as good as the display warranted. The exhibitors generally had exerted themselves and displayed great good taste as a rule in the arrangement of booths and exhibits. Mrs. Witham in one of the side booths near the door had a display of washing machines and ovens and a demonstration from Los Angeles was present to display their merits. The booth of Mr. C. H. Bott, the bookstore man, was tastefully decorated and on the counter were in addition to stationery and books, some excellent specimens of photography, the work of Mr. Bott, the subjects all being Glendale scenes, one album of views being particularly fine. The Guernsey Jewelry Store had a good display of its attractive wares, jewelry, kodak work and opticians' goods. Mrs. Eudemiller, the Brand Boulevard milliner, had probably the finest display in the hall, although it only occupied a six-foot booth. It consisted of a variety of elegant ostrich plumes, rich trimmings and hats of the latest and most elegant style; one of them adorned by birds of paradise and gold trimmings having a valuation expressed in three figures. Mrs. Helen M. Frazar exhibited fine specimens of china painting and water colors, some of the first named comprising beautiful and unique specimens of vases and other ornamental pieces of pottery. The Superior Electric Co. had a large and beautiful display of globes, lamps, and electrical devices, ornamental and useful. One of the unique features of the exhibition was the miniature restaurant, daintily furnished with rare china, costly silver, glassware and napery—a miniature "Casa Verdugo," arranged by Mrs. Sowl, the proprietor of that popular resort. Morgan's Dairy gave a demonstration of the utility of powdered milk and products of the dairy. Mr. Russell of the Purity Bakery was a liberal dispenser of his choicest bakery output, a large portion of which was devoured by appreciative visitors. The Mirador Pharmacy had a space reserved bearing the legend, "Too Busy Moving to make a display." The First National Bank had one of the most original displays in the hall, consisting of an excellent imitation of the cashier's cage, and a case filled with an interesting exhibit of rare coins and war-time currency. Mr. Ed Lee was on duty dispensing lead pencils as generously. C. E. Shaver, the Fourth street grocer, occupied a large booth in the center of the hall, a beautifully decorated structure in which Mrs. Shaver and other ladies served fragrant cups of coffee and wafers to all comers. Speaking of the unique, the palm must be awarded to Frank Zerr, of the Glendale Pharmacy, whose large booth was heavily decorated with pepper boughs forming a canopy underneath which blazed an incandescent "Witches Cauldron," from which Miss Zerr in an excellent make-up as a witch ladeled out a delicious decoction from an original prescription which caused the many who indulged to imitate Oliver Twist and long for "more." There was another exhibit, however, which deserves praise for its originality and general attractiveness and that was the one made by Mr. Chobe, the electrician. The Japanese idea was carried throughout the booth and its contents, including Mr. and Mrs. Chobe, whose costumes were in keeping with the part they played. In addition to a general display of electrical contrivances, a washing machine was in operation, run by electric motor.

The McGillis Grocery occupied the main space at the end of the hall near the doorway, the booth being gay with many colored trimmings. Ladies in attendance served delectable cereal coffee and cakes to all applicants, the booth being one of the best stocked in the hall. The prize-winning booth was that of Mr. George S. Williams, the dry goods man, to which the cup was awarded by outside and impartial judges consisting of Mrs. Smith, president of the P. E. O., Burbank; Mrs. Joyce of Los Angeles, also a P. E. O., and Mr. Truscott of Eagle Rock; the presentation speech being made by Mrs. Briggs of Los Angeles, past superintendent of the order. The display of Mr. Williams was harmonious and artistic in a high degree, and showed great pains and skill in its arrangement. The color scheme was in white and green, the goods were selected with an eye to harmonious placing and display, and the decision of the judges seemed to meet with general approval.

In a corner of the hall the P. E. O. ladies served refreshments, ice cream and cake. Among the pleasant features of the evening's entertainments was the presentation to Mrs. B. E. Chase of a beautiful gold bracelet as a token of appreciation from her sister members of the P. E. O. for her successful management of the affair. Another feature deserving mention was the singing of Miss Viola Yorba, who delighted the audience Friday evening by her singing of "The Roseary" and "La Paloma," her voice showing remarkable development in sweetness and power.

A description of the affair would be incomplete without mention of the "Products" exhibit of Mr. Menzo Williams of Casa Verdugo, who displayed a remarkably interesting collection of fruits and vegetables, consisting of apples, oranges, lemons, grapefruit, and big sweet potatoes, the latter specimens weighing five pounds apiece.

CITY TRUSTEES

Various Matters but Nothing in Particular

All present. Some time was devoted to a discussion of changes in fire districts; the matter finally being left to the committee on public safety in conjunction with the city attorney. A communication was received from Mr. Duff asking for permit to manufacture an odorless fertilizer within the city limits. Mr. Duff appeared before the board and said that the location where he thought of starting his business is near the Salt Lake depot. Second and Glendale avenue. It was referred to public works committee to investigate, permit to be issued upon recommendation of the committee.

Mr. Hall of the Hall Collection Agency and who is getting up a directory of Glendale, Tropic and vicinity, appeared before the board and asked for an appropriation of $100 for advertising Glendale by means of cuts to be published in that work. Mr. Coker made a motion seconded by Mr. Watson that $100 be donated as requested. In the discussion, Mr. Hall stated that the book would contain at least thirty cuts. Mr. Lane moved an amendment seconded by Mr. Williams, that the matter be referred to the supply committee to report in one week and this prevailed. The street superintendent reported progress in the matter of improving Verdugo road. Had had a meeting with property owners, nearly all of whom favored going ahead with the work. Superintendent of lighting department reported numerous inquiries from the West Glendale people as to the policy of the city in regard to lighting that section. The members of the board seemed to think the question a little premature, but it was the general expression that the matter will be taken up as soon as practicable but that not much can be done until it is settled whether still more territory comes in in the near future. The city engineer brought up the matter of preparing street numbers and street profile maps for the territory just annexed, but the board took no action.

Tax collector reported $488.45 collected during the week. Architect Tuttle reported on bids received for heating the city hall, figures ranging from $735 to $885, the bid of the Phillips Heat and Mfg. Co. to supply heating apparatus being accepted.

An appeal for assistance was read from the authorities of Black River, Wis., as found in another column. No action was taken, but the local papers were requested to make the appeal public. The building inspector asked for information as to permits for buildings in newly annexed territory. The city attorney stated that annexation will not be a fact until the certificate of election is filed with the secretary of state. The question of rates charged by gas companies was brought up and discussed. It was stated that several near-by cities have 30-cent gas and the chairman was directed to communicate with the Southern California Gas Co. requesting a decrease in the price of gas. The matter of the fountain at corner of Fourth and Glendale avenue, which has gone dry, was referred to Trustee Williams to report later. Mr. Coker made an eloquent appeal for a city jail consisting of at least two cells; he also expressed appreciation of the efficient services of City Marshal Miller and Officer Everett in their capture of criminals last week. The matter of jail was referred to police and sanitary committee.

An ordinance relating to rates for electricity was read third time and adopted.

The tent meetings will close tonight (Friday) with an illustrated lecture entitled "Across the Seas." Admission free.

A TRIBUTE.
The characteristics of honesty, endurance and submission were so manifest in our friend George M. Butterfield, lately called to the Great Beyond, that we who knew him best want to speak of the light that radiated from these splendid qualities.

His nature was courageous, sympathetic and deeply earnest. His affliction constrained his friends by sadness, but worked for him an eternal weight of character both of head and heart. His soul was poetic and his mind full of verse. He never spoke ill of others, and extenuated human faults, believing as he did in the charity of which Paul wrote to the Corinthians.

His hope in the young friends with whom he came in contact was very marked, and his ideals of temperance and truthfulness will only be remembered hereafter, as begun here. He never heard him express an opinion on the creed of any church, but he declared his belief in God in his everyday life, and to him "The church was in man, when his awed soul goes out in reverence to the mystery that swallows him all about."

He loved nature and believed that "Where'er the surge of life provokes the dumb dead sod,

To tell its thought in violets, the soul takes hold of God."

He found tongues in trees, books in running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything.

"O'er the chapters that are written long and lovingly we pore, But the best is yet unwritten for we grow to more and more."

A FRIEND.
Los Angeles, Oct. 18, 1911.

COUNTY CLUB NOTES.

Friday evening the Country Club parlors were the scene of delightful festivities when the members of the club and their friends assembled for the monthly dance. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hitchcock presided as host and hostess and owing to their gracious endeavors a charming evening was enjoyed by all.

The Maids and matrons of the Country Club held their "Third Monday" meeting Monday afternoon. Bridge and Five Hundred claimed the attention of the guests. Mrs. Ralph Hinckley and Mrs. E. F. Tholen won the head prizes.

Delicious refreshments were served in two courses at the conclusion of the games.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

At its regular meeting on Friday night, October 13th, the semi-annual election of officers was held with the following result: President, E. U. Emery; first vice president, E. D. Goode; second vice president, T. W. Watson; third vice president, F. J. Showalter; secretary and treasurer, E. B. Riggs; W. D. Buck; A. B. Hancock; J. P. Shropshire and G. E. Williams were elected as the four additional members of the executive committee.

Mr. E. C. Frank reported for the hotel committee, recommending a site on Eagle Rock road; purchase price and other information to be announced at the next meeting of the chamber.

An encouraging report was made by Chairman Goode of the special committee appointed to look after the new road from Glendale to Griffith park.

GREATER GLENDALE

West Glendale Annexed by Election of Saturday—Glendale Becomes a City of 5000 People

The annexation of last Saturday was almost devoid of excitement, and was practically unanimous. In the city limits there were 189 votes cast, of which 178 were for and 11 against. In the territory outside the vote was 128 in favor and 20 against. All of which indicates a great change in public sentiment since last February when in the larger district there were many active workers against the annexation of the larger district proposed at that time. After the count of votes Saturday evening a crowd of thirty or forty annexation boosters secured the services of the Glendale band and made a tour of the newly acquired territory, not forgetting an incursion into Tropic and Casa Verdugo where the band and the boosters together gave two or three not entirely appreciated serenades. The territory Glendale acquires by this election consists of the greater portion of the "Valley View Tract" and the thickly populated territory to the northward just west of Central avenue, taking in the most of the residences over to the San Fernando road except the west end of Fourth street, adding at least 1500 to the city's population. As soon as possible this section will be given the improvements which are needed to keep it up in the line of advancement demanded by the high character of its population. The West Glendale school house is included in the territory that now comes into the city and the pupils of that school will be admitted soon, if not at once, to all the privileges of the Glendale newly established intermediate school.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

There are now 272 pupils enrolled and they continue to drop in every few days; the largest number enrolled last year was 241. Mrs. Gibson and several other members of the faculty with about fifty pupils enjoyed the Sousa Band concert on Thursday. Tonight (Friday) the men in the faculty and a large number of boys will accept the invitation of the Y. M. C. A. in Los Angeles to the "Open House" to be given by that organization, the invitation being given to the suburban high schools to go in and "take possession."

Last Friday morning, Mrs. E. W. Kelley and Mr. Julius Kraus entertained the school with some fine musical numbers. Friday of next week Mrs. Gibson's pupils will give a recital at 2 p. m. to which all patrons and friends of the school are invited. The debates under the direction of Prof. Root are proving to be of great interest and are a successful means of development.

At the honor of hearing President Taft's speech in Los Angeles, made an interesting report on it to the history class. Plans are being made for a reception to be given patrons of the school on the evening of Friday, Nov. 3rd. Friday of this week terminates the series of basketball games between the class teams, at present the Seniors and the Freshmen are in the lead. Cornwell and Kelly have presented the school with a fine banner to be contested for four years. On election day an interesting vote was taken in the school on the various amendments. The result on some of them was as follows: For woman suffrage 119, against 120; for the recall 200, against 28; for president, Taft 34, Wilson 28, LaFollette 121, Clark 22, Debs 27.

BIG RATIFICATION MASS MEETING

The suffrage amendment No. 4 will be fully explained and ratified at Filger's Opera house on Saturday evening, Oct. 21, at 8 p. m. Everybody invited. It will be a home justification. Muhleman, Doyle, Watson, O'Brien, Fram, Dr. Hunt, Mattison B. Jones, Prof. Howe of the high school, Prof. Anderson of the intermediate school, Rev. Humphrey and Mr. Belden. There may be still others added.

The opera house will be decorated, and the shouters will be there. Come early and get a good seat. This is for Glendale, Tropic, Casa Verdugo, Burbank and Eagle Rock. Remember the date, Saturday evening; the place, Filger's Opera House.

By order of Equal Suffrage Committee.

The Maids and Matrons of the Glendale Club met Monday in the club parlors.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR IMPROVED SERVICE.

Mr. R. A. Blackburn, one of the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to work in connection with a similar committee from the Valley Improvement Association in an effort to get more cars put on the Pacific Electric line during the hours of greatest rush during the day, reports having had an interview with Mr. McMillan, general traffic manager, in which that gentleman indicated his desire to do what is practicable in the matter. Mr. McMillan said that he thought some of the congestion might be relieved if passengers on the three-car trains did not show such a decided preference for the head car, which he says is frequently overcrowded, while the others have ample room. Another suggestion he made was in regard to the Burbank cars, which leave during morning and evening hours ten minutes after the regular Glendale cars, thus affording an additional car which Glendale and Tropic passengers may avail themselves of. He added that additional cars would be put on if necessary, but that this means slower time.

INGLEWOOD DICKENS CLUB.

Inglewood has one of the six Dickens Clubs of this country affiliated with the Dickens Fellowship of London, England, where the Dickensian, devoted to furthering the Dickens spirit, is published. The members of the Inglewood club are planning for a Dickens centenary at which will be presented in varied form much of interest connected with the life and works of the noted author.

On Tuesday Mrs. and Miss Frank and Mrs. and Miss Wells were guests of Mrs. Eager at the bi-monthly meeting at which were read extracts from the Dickensian concerning recent Dickens publications, presentations of Dickens' plays and other interesting related matters. Reading from Pickwick Papers and a paper on Dickens' biographers and illustrators were most entertaining.

GLENDAL, CAL., OCTOBER 20, 1911

Governor Johnson refused an introduction to Gen. H. G. Otis the other day. Well, the doughty general has survived many a harder blow.

Along Broadway in Los Angeles the other day the president of the United States rode by the street lined thickly with people; but a side street halfway block long was congested by a crowd watching the returns from a baseball game three thousand miles away!

The columns of the NEWS are open for explanations from any one of those thousands of voters who have been declaiming loudly their belief in the theory of "the rule of the people," but who voted to take from the people the election of a railroad commission, gave it enlarged powers and increased membership and agreed to have them appointed by the governor, yielding up by the same act the power to "recall" them.

Beet growers are next season to receive fifty cents a ton more for their beets. Is there any connection between this concession on the part of the sugar trust and the increase in the price of sugar? Must the beet sugar industry be indefinitely supported at the expense of the consumer? How long will ninety millions of people continue to be indirectly taxed through the continuation of the duty on imported sugar in order that a few of their fellow citizens may prosper?

GREATER GLENDALE.

The Greater Glendale's coming fast. Its boundaries grow apace, it's forging bravely to the front and there will take its place among the cities of the land whose people are awake, who never take a way back seat nor off put on the brake.

We've just begun annexing things, sort of acquired the habit; you can't escape tho' you have wings or jump legs like a rabbit. The Greater Glendale's come to stay, so clear the track ye scoffers; let doubting ones remain to pray and take the part that offers. We'll gobble all the nearer hills and with a few more sallies, take in the further mountains range and then annex the valleys. We'll hitch our wagon to a star and if we move too swift, we'll cast an anchor as we pass and give the orb a lift.

The job of patching up our state constitution promises to make a rich harvest for lawyers and incidentally to clog up our courts. We shall be treated liberally for some time to come to learned opinions as to "the intention of the law." At present it is a matter of doubt as to whether women are entitled to or required to register as voters. If it shall be decided that they do become full fledged possessors of the franchise immediately upon the decision of the electors through the ballot being announced, it would seem that it is the plain intention of the law to levy a poll tax upon all citizens entitled to the ballot, and that therefore the citizens newly endowed with it shall also be endowed with the right, privilege or duty of contributing poll tax to the state without the necessity of further legislation.

NEWS WANTED.

Occasionally we hear complaints to the effect that we do not give news items from certain sections or in reference to the doings of certain people, and it has been intimated or openly declared that this paper does not treat all sections alike. A little reflection on the part of our critics will show them the baselessness of this idea. A newspaper cannot afford to be sectional in the sense that it discriminates as to news, publishing that from one section and suppressing what comes from another.

The NEWS desires to get items of interest from every section where it circulates and are never rejected or suppressed. Any one disposed to test the matter can do so by sending us contributions. We have both telephones, and the mail is fairly reliable.

We want items about new houses, new babies, the arrivals of new people in the neighborhood, marriages, deaths, everything. Send it all in.

THE McNAMARA TRIAL.

The preliminaries of the trial of the McNamaras in Los Angeles, on a charge of murder, emphasizes some of the ridiculous features of our jury system. The first is the announced intention of making the unfortunate twelve men who will be accepted as jurors, practically prisoners for the time of the trial. They will be separated from their homes and their business and their health will be imperiled, for the sake of service to society and a generous stipend of two dollars a day! In the second place, no man who has "formed an opinion" is to be eligible for service. If common sense might have come to the rescue of the framers of the law and suggested that the requirement should be that a juror should not have formed an "unchangeable opinion," there would not have been such an opportunity offered of securing jurors whose opinion would be of little value. Practically every man in the state of California has heard of the case and probably discussed it to some extent and the most of them have formed an opinion. There are very few "good men and true," however who have formed an opinion that cannot be changed by sworn testimony. If the task of securing a jury is long drawn out on account of the absurd interpretation as to what constitutes "bias," the trial is likely to be a mere travesty of justice.

AN EASY STEP BACKWARD.

Coatesville is in Chester county, Pennsylvania, only thirty or forty miles distant from the City of Brotherly Love, founded by the great Quaker, William Penn. In the latter days of August a negro who had killed a policeman while resisting arrest, was taken by a mob of several hundred people from the hospital where he was being treated for a self-inflicted wound, dragged into a near-by field and burned to death. We have received a copy of the grand jury's report and its indictment charging two of the leaders of the mob with murder and two peace officers with manslaughter for not granting the negro protection. The report is a good, wholesome document and aside from the indictments, it criticizes severely the attitude of the people of Coatesville for condoning the crime and endeavoring to shield the perpetrators. An incident of this kind occurring in a community that is a part of the most populous section of an eastern state, tempts us to moralize upon the thin veneer of our modern "Christian Civilization," but the facts in themselves need but little comment in order to prove that the difference between the twentieth century man and the savages whom he succeeded by the process of exterminating them, is not so deep but that it may be spanned by a step backward in a time of the prevalence of passions which exist in the breasts of human beings now as they did in the beginning.

ON THE INCONSISTENCY OF VOTERS.

The Argonaut will not disguise its conviction that the results of this election involve California in a grievous political blunder. By it we have gone far towards substituting the democratic for the representative principle in our fundamental law. In the Recall we have put a whip in the hand of political and social discontent; in the referendum we have put in the power of any considerable group of dissatisfied or malicious persons to hinder and delay the operations of law. Curiously enough, while carrying forward these "advanced" ideas, we have gone quite to the opposite extreme in another direction in the matter of railroad commissioners. While voting to put direct authority into the hands of the people in relation to general administrative officials and with respect to the making and unmaking of laws, we have taken the selection of railroad commissioners out of the hands of the people and have placed these particular officials beyond reach of the recall. Curious and anomalous, truly!

It can not but be that this scheme of things in its general effect must tend to weaken the powers of government at its center, that it must tend always to confusion and at special times to paralysis. A state government uncertain of its mandate, subject under easy processes to popular review and even to overthrow by the whim or passion of the moment, will surely be uncertain, timid, weak. That a government so placed and so embarrassed will have the powers to meet crises promptly and with determination it is not reasonable to expect.

A serious aspect of this election is the carelessness and indifference exhibited first in the lightness of the vote, and second in its amazing inconsistencies. Serious-minded men are asking what is the reason, when vital and revolutionary issues are at stake, waters of novelty and experimentation. It will to some extent limit the investment of foreign capital here, and it will check the enthusiasm of local men of enterprise. It will not break down prosperity, but it will to some extent limit it until such time as we shall return to a sane regard for wholesome standards and fixed principles. Fortunately there is a political authority above that of the state in control of our larger and broader relationships. The wave of recklessness and folly which for the moment has overwhelmed California is not likely to engulf a majority of the states or to destroy the principles represented in national government. This is the saving fact in a situation which regarded locally alone presents more motives of discouragement than of hope.—S. F. Argonaut.

NEW CONDITIONS AND NEW DUTIES.

By the annexation election of last Saturday another of the imaginary lines between East and West Glendale was wiped out. The vote on this question indicates a spirit of increasing harmony among our people and now is a good time to stop playing both sides against the middle and to move on in a spirit of harmony toward our manifest destiny. We do not expect to see all sectional feeling disappear immediately, but it is bound to pass away as the community grows and the people of all sections come to see the necessity of uniting for the common good. There are problems to be worked out which affect every citizen of this section of our valley alike and existing conditions should be recognized as they are. The city of Glendale has given to the surrounding neighborhood an object lesson the value of which no one having interests in this section can afford to overlook. It has demonstrated the value of home rule and procured for its people advantages which they would not have possessed for years if remaining under county government merely, or if forming a part of that great but overgrown city adjoining our territory. The people in this vicinity who still favor absorption by the city of Los Angeles, should make themselves better acquainted with local conditions and give more serious and unbiased consideration to the subject than some of them seem to have done, and if they do so the probability is that they will see that from every point of view it is better to build up here a municipality which will best conserve the rights and interests of the people within its limits.

There is one class of people particularly numerous in the territory just annexed to Glendale who can be of great assistance in public work from which many of them have stood aloof heretofore, and that is the people who have homes here but whose time is nearly all spent in Los Angeles. Their own particular home spot has naturally and properly the greatest attraction for them in their hours of leisure, but they should be willing to devote at least a small portion of that time to getting acquainted with the people among whom they live and the city of which they are now a part. They should take part in public affairs, patronize the local institutions, particularly the home merchants and in many ways show a larger interest in the life of the community in which they live.

LADIES REGISTER.

A number of "newly enfranchised" citizens have been preparing themselves for political service by registering as voters during the past few days. ANNOUNCEMENT.

Miss Octavia Hudson wishes to announce that the growth of her Graded School of Music has necessitated the engagement of an assistant teacher, and that a limited number of hours are open for instruction in either Primary, Intermediate or Advanced Work in Music. Further: That Miss Kuesel, assistant teacher in Miss Hudson's School of Music, is not only a graduate teacher, but has received thorough training from Miss Hudson in her methods and system of applying such methods in her teaching.

Miss Hudson has received her musical education from America's best teachers; the foremost of whom is the late Wm. H. Sherwood of the Sherwood Music School of Chicago. Upon completion of a normal course, Mr. Sherwood writes: "Miss Octavia Hudson is entitled to consideration for her painstaking, intelligence and pedagogic information."

As it is impossible to instruct pupils in the broad study of music in private lessons alone, Weekly Analytical Class Lessons are given in each grade in connection with the regular private lessons for the purpose of studying a large variety of subjects. While this Analytical work is included in the regular course of study in the best schools of music in the large eastern cities, it cannot be obtained in connection with regular work in any other school of music in Los Angeles or suburbs. Miss Hudson's Graded School of Music, is also the only school of music in which the work of all pupils, and in all grades, is graded. Thus pupils enrolled in Miss Hudson's Graded School of Music will receive an all around musical education, resulting in Artistic Piano Playing and Intelligent Musicianship.

A series of recitals will be given in Glendale during the year for the purpose of keeping the parents of pupils in touch with the work of the school and advancement of the pupils. A cordial invitation to these recitals will be extended to friends of the pupils or others who may be interested in the study of music.

GLENDALE STABLES.

Glendale grows. We are fifty per cent bigger than we were a week ago. But as we are prepared always to satisfy the demands of our patrons, it doesn't matter. 'Come along with your order for saddle horses or rigs and we will fill it and do it in a way that will make you come again. 328 Glendale Ave. Home phone 682; Sunset 82.

Miss Iva Hunter of Maryland avenue again took up her duties as teacher in the Tropico school. For several months past Miss Hunter has been taking an enforced vacation on account of serious injuries to her foot.

At the recent Merchants' Exhibit, Mrs. C. H. Eudemiller had displayed in her millinery berth a $300 hat. A glance at the beautiful creation was all that was necessary to see that it was all that it was claimed to be. It was very large and drooping, covered with lace and adorned with two unusually beautiful birds of paradise in exquisite shades of rich creams and yellows.

TROPICO

The Young People's Union of the Valley held their regular monthly meeting in the Presbyterian church of this place, Wednesday evening.

John Hobbs, who for the past several weeks has been in the East visiting his mother, returned to his home at this place this week.

Rev. Karnes announces that he will deliver both morning and evening services at the Tropico Methodist church next Sunday. All are invited.

The reception which was to have been given to Rev. Karnes, the pastor of the Tropico Methodist church, and wife, Thursday evening, was postponed until next Tuesday evening. The event will be held in the church and every one interested is cordially invited to be present.

The Sentinel quotes Asst. Supt. of County Schools Bettenger as saying that the only thing Los Angeles can do for the 15 or 20 school children across the S. P. track from Tropico, is to procure a site and erect a school building as soon as possible. In the meantime the children are attending the Tropico school.

Next Monday evening the social night of the Knights of Pythias of this place will be observed. A committee consisting of C. C. Rittenhouse, Jr., G. A. Marek, Wayne Frank, C. L. Jennings and E. L. Young, is in charge of the arrangements and are promising to prepare one of the most enjoyable evenings held thus far by this lodge. The membership of this lodge is rapidly growing and at this time there are 73 names on the lodge roll.

The body of Mrs. C. C. Rittenhouse, who died at her home on Walnut street last Friday, was buried from the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Hatch, pastor of the church, had charge of the service, while the funeral was taken care of by the Pulliam Undertaking company of Glendale. Mrs. Rittenhouse was the wife of C. C. Rittenhouse, member of the board of trustees of this city. For the past year or so Mrs. Rittenhouse has been ill and the end was not altogether unexpected. Interment was made at Forest Lawn cemetery.

AT THE TROPICO SCHOOL.

Mr. Mark Keppel, county superintendent, was a visitor at the Tropico school on Wednesday.

Master Thomas Phillips, who hails from Los Angeles, entered the eighth year class Monday.

The Misses Porter, who are teaching in the Compton Grammar school, were visitors at the school Wednesday.

The pupils were very happily surprised Monday morning when, on being lined up to pass into the building, the principal informed them that the trustees had granted a holiday in order that the children might see President Taft.

The teachers are pleased to report that the homeless dog which has been hanging around the school grounds and making its home in the building, has been taken away. It is believed that Marshal Fishback performed the act of mercy.

Miss Iva Hunter's sprained ankle has sufficiently improved as to allow Miss Hunter to take up her work at the Tropico grammar school. Mrs. Mary Phelps Cowan, who has been substituting in Miss Hunter's place, has returned to Los Angeles.

The enrollment at the present time at the Tropico school is 273, against 239 at the opening of school this year. And the children continue to come in. The eighth grade this year is the largest in the history of the school, there being 33 in the class, which is in charge of Mrs. McClure, principal.

A baseball team has been organized in the school. The first game of the year was played last week with West Glendale, the local boys once more coming out victorious. Under the direction of Miss Hopkins a basketball team has also been formed and will begin practicing within a few days.

Owing to the fact that all the money for the conduct of the school next year depends wholly upon the average daily attendance of this year, parents are earnestly urged to send their children regularly and punctually to school. There is no such thing as tardiness any more. Under the new law a child who is late at all must be marked absent one-fourth of a day. As each fourth of a day means five cents per pupil, the child who fails to be on time keeps the district from obtaining what rightfully belongs to it. Any pupil who is not present a full quarter of a day must be marked absent for that time, and no pupil can leave school on the request of the parent without being marked absent. The room having the highest average daily attendance will be granted a half holiday. Each room is working hard for the holiday and it is rather discouraging to have a few chronic absentees or tardy pupils pull the record down.

SUDDEN DEATH.
Mr. M. H. Cook of Burbank dropped dead in a store at that place Monday evening, the cause being heart trouble. He had been a resident of that town for fourteen years, and leaves a wife, but no children. The funeral took place at the M. E. Church, Burbank, Thursday afternoon.

CASA VERDUGO
After passing several weeks in New Mexico on business, W. P. Thompson returned recently to his home at this place.

Arthur Campbell returned early this week from San Francisco, where he has been for the past few days attending the Masonic convention held at that place.

Having sold their six-room bungalow on Viola street, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lusk and family have left for Los Angeles where they will remain permanently. The new owners of the Lusk home will take possession immediately.

The proprietor of Pepper Tree Inn is making extensive improvements on the inn grounds. A crushed decomposed roadway is being laid from the street to the garage; an artistic rough stone fence is being erected at the front part of the yard, and other improvements are under way.

WEST GLENDALE
Several new scholars for the West Glendale school this week.

A new residence is being constructed at the corner of Fourth and Columbus avenue.

Mr. E. T. Earl and children were in Glendale last week and paid a visit to their new home, being finished at La Canada.

Mr. C. H. Boyd is having a garage built at his home on Ivy street to house the handsome new car that he has recently acquired.

The children of the West Glendale M. E. Sunday school are preparing a splendid program for Rally Day, to
